"Hound" combines comedy, mystery, drama

By Mary Clark

"The Real Inspector Hound," is Avila's first theatre production this year. Written by Tom Stoppard, and directed by guest director Marsha Morgon, the play combines comedy and mystery with drama, to enthuse its audience.

The play is clever, witty, and filled with surprises. It is a play within a play and a take off on mysteries. This production is short with no intermissions. It is a uniquely written play, which begins with drama and unwinds itself with comedy and mystery.

The play begins with two critics awaiting the beginning of a play. In their discussion of the play, they suddenly find themselves part of the play. "The Real Inspector Hound," challenges the audience to find where reality ends and the fiction of the play begins. It is a who-done-it story, with no answer.

The cast in this production are Loren Leiser as Moon, Paul Burns as Birdboot, Annamarie Pileggi as Mrs. Drudge, Ronnie Culver as Simon Gascoyne, Trish Crutcher as Felicity Cunningham, Ellen Loschke as Cynthia Muldoon, Chris Maddy as Inspector Hound, Rossol Asimi as Magnus Muldoon and David Pilcher as Deadbody.

"The Real Inspector Hound," will be in Goppert Theatre, September 27 and 28 at 8:00 p.m. and October 3 and 4 at 8:00 p.m. For tickets and ticket information, call the Goppert Theatre box office at 942-8400 extension 290.

Committee insures good relations

By Karen Wilson

The formation of a committee which could benefit both Avila College and its neighboring community is under consideration by the Board of Counselors. This committee, known as the Neighborhood Council Committee, could prove to be an important step in insuring good relations between the college and the neighborhood.

Dean Cupkie stated, "Avila college is trying to become involved in the growth of South Kansas City."

A Neighborhood Council Committee could aid in this growth by encouraging the community to involve itself with Avila College. This involvement could include taking some classes or taking advantage of some of the activities on campus, such as theater and sports events.

Because Avila has developed into what Dean Cupkie described as "a force in the community," it is important for the college to determine exactly what its responsibilities are. Therefore, a Neighborhood Council Committee could prove necessary for defining Avila's role in the community and maintaining a positive image for the college.

Permanent membership for the Committee remains uncertain, as does its possibility for success. However, those persons involved seem optimistic about its chances, even though as Dean Cupkie stated, the Committee's growth and maturity "may be a lot farther down the road."

Social Committee floor representatives are Sarah Benedict, Barbara Haggard, Carol Gladstone, Mary Kay Zwiesler, Larry Larson, and Dee Todd.

As a lyricist, guitarist, and pianist, Perry Leopold is described as mellow, tart and spicy all at one time. Perry will perform for Avila College on Thursday, September 25 in Marian Centre Lounge at 8 p.m. This program is sponsored by the Student Union Board Coffeehouse Committee. Refreshments will be served.

Student Activity Fee Process Budget

By Connie Johnston

The Student Activity Fee Board met in the spring of last year and prepared the 1980-81 budget with student organizational input. Printed on page three for anyone interested in knowing where their money goes is the result of the Fee Board's budget process.

Located at the left is the organization or activity that has requested funding from the Fee Board. Next, is their budget allocation for the 1979-80 academic year. To the right of that is the organization or activity's projected budget need for the 1980-81 year.

Next, is the organization or activity's projected generated income. As may be seen, most organizations and activities exist only on Student Activity Fee money. Located next to the column is the organization or activity's 1980-81 net request, and in the far right column, is the SAFB recommendation of the amount of Student Activity Fee money that will be budgeted to the organizations and activities.

This budget recommendation has been approved by the Dean of Students. Located beneath the budget is the projected Student Activity Fee income from both full-time and part-time students. Student Activity Fee income is affected by Avila's student enrollment.

Coach pleased with team effort, mobility

The Avila College Soccer team journeyed to St. Louis Labor Day weekend to take on the Washington University Bears. The Bears, third-place finishers in the 1979 N.C.A.A. Division 3 tournament, disappointed the Avila kickers with a 1-0 overtime victory.

The score was not indicative of the game as the Avila kickers dominated the shots on goal 15 to 8 and corner kicks 9 to 3. Avila mentor Chris Carenza commented, "I was very pleased with the team's effort in the first half. Our excellent mobility and team play created many opportunities on goal in the first half."

Hampering Monday's play was a torrential downpour, which occurred near the end of the first half. Also, the team was forced to play a man short when forward Ken Bromeier was ejected for a flagrant foul early in the second half. These two factors changed the Avalanche's style of play considerably. "The combination of the sloppy field and loss of a forward drastically reduced our offensive capability," commented Coach Carenza.

Coach Carenza was particularly pleased with the play of Avila's captain, Dan Daily, striker Joe Schrick, and midfielder John Pupura. He also commended the play of defender Tom Zahner and of goalkeeper Anthony Christian.

Career Day; October 18

By Sue Matson

Mark your calendar! Saturday, October 18th, the Admissions Office will sponsor the first "AVILA CAREER DAY." The big event will last all day and include information on academic departments, career development, co-curricular activities, a soccer match and a women's volleyball match. There will be early evening entertainment during a buffet dinner.

The Admissions Office will be inviting many prospective Avila students from the area high schools to come to campus that day. They will obtain information about careers and our college.

You—the current Avila students—are also invited to join in the activities. Career resource people from the Kansas City area will be available to talk with you about career options.

In addition, the Admissions Office would like to solicit your help in a variety of ways (campus tours, welcoming, etc.). If you would like to volunteer, or would like more information about Avila's big event, please contact Sue Matson at 942-8400, ext. 204.

Two Voyagers

Silence is all through the house, and the time is just drifting away.
Where it goes, I don't know,
my mind is going back to yesterday.
Suddenly I realize why,
I've got this happy feeling.
It's because of the things we've done,
And the laughs we've shared that I'm remembering.
You with your charming ways,
and me with my affectionate words.
On the uncertain but exciting
sea of romance,
we are two voyagers.
Where will the waters lead us?
I have asked myself this question over and over.
But the future will always be a mystery,
full of surprises for us to discover.
I really enjoy being with you,
the time goes by so fast.
As I enjoy today,
I'll look forward to tomorrow.
And hope our days together will last.

Open House offers opportunity

By Karen Wilson

As loyal Avila Examiner readers, I'm sure that all of you spend some time each day asking the famous question, "How is this newspaper put together?" Well, your days of wondering are over. On Monday, September 22, the Avila Examiner staff will be in Marian Centre Lounge from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. holding its first open house. This is an invitation to come, voice your opinions about the Examiner, give suggestions for future issues, meet the staff, and find out just how a newspaper is run.

The Examiner staff is genuinely interested in the opinions of its readers and hopes to profit from this experience. Feedback on each issue is essential for improvement; therefore, if you feel the Examiner needs improvement in any area, come and let us know. Also, if you enjoyed an article and would like to see the same subject covered in future issues, give the staff your suggestions.

The open house also offers an opportunity for readers to learn about newspaper production. If you think that "layout" involves getting a suntan and "paste-ups" require construction paper, small scissors, and Elmer's glue, the open house could prove to be a learning experience for you. Actually, layout and paste-ups are two activities, in addition to reporting that the staff is involved in. Students interested in joining the staff are encouraged to come and ask questions.

The open house offers an opportunity for all interested readers to gain some input into the Examiner and a better idea of how it operates. So come, enjoy the refreshments, and bring your suggestions.

Campus ministry means serving student needs

By Fr. Jim Lyons

Sister Margaret Reinhart is Counselors—there is an active artist-in-residence for Avila counseling system at Avila—College. She is also central co-ordinator for all of campus ministry. For her, campus ministry means any activity which serves the human needs of Avila students; therefore, you can expect a fairly wide variety of available services on campus. And, like Sister Margaret, they will tend to be low key.

Sister Margaret likes to relate art-on-canvas to art-on-campus, which is the art of getting the most and the best out of college life. Instructors become campus ministers, in her sense, when they take time in class or out of class to help the student make the grade.

One innovation in Avila campus ministry this year will be a kind of "help yourself to mental and spiritual health" project. "Project Life Skills" will present brief video cassette programs in the dorms for small groups of students. The basic idea is that the spiritually healthy persons presented on the tapes will trigger personal reactions and memories from the small group. When these reactions are shared each person ordinarily gains insight into what is healthy and what is not so healthy.

If Sister Margaret is the campus person, Father Jim Lyons is the chapel person. The college chapel in Foyle Hall is open for peaceful moments throughout the day—and this is for all students. The campus masses, also open to all students, are on regular schedule: Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays at 6:45 a.m.; Wednesdays and Thursdays at noon; Saturdays at 4:00 p.m. and Sundays at 11:15 a.m.

Broday Receives Art Service Medal

Myron Broday, Associate professor of Art, was presented with a medal by the Brazilian Division of Education for his distinguished community service in developing cultural exchange programs in the Arts among the people of Para, Brazil and Missouri.

Brody was one of the seven Brazilians and Americans selected to receive the medal. The awards are made every ten years. Brody serves the Missouri, USA/Para, Brazil Partners of the Americans program as Vice President.

Hartford Ballet; October 23-25

By Connie Volcek

On October 23-25 Avila College will present the Hartford Ballet which will be sponsored by Student Union Board and produced in cooperation with the Department of Performing and Visual Arts.

The ballet company will hold one Master Class on October 23 for students of ballet interested in learning more about ballet.

There will also be two concert performances, one on Friday the 24th and the other on Saturday the 25th.

Performances will feature the concept of classical ballet, and explore the world of modern ballet.

Tickets for the performances may be purchased at the Marian Centre Candy Store.

Bureau Names New Member

Sister Olive Louise has been appointed to a three-year term on the board of directors of the Convention and Visitors Bureau of Greater Kansas City.

The announcement was made by Bruce McMullan, chairman of the Bureau's board of directors.

"Sister Olive Louise has a long history of leadership on boards of directors," McMullan combined an interest in the community with her vision and efforts to build Avila College. That school and its superior academic status are testimony to her capabilities."

The Convention and Visitors Bureau is a private, non-profit association charged with marketing conventions and tourism for Greater Kansas City.

TRIPPING

Kansas City offers a wealth of historian and cultural places to visit. Tripping is produced by the Student Life Program. It is a series of visitations to places of interest in the Kansas City area. Transportation and admission subsidies are financed through the Student Activity Fee.

Tripping programs require advance reservation in the Marian Centre Candy Store. All trips have limited capacity, and transportation leaves from the Marian Centre Parking lot at designated times. On Sunday, September 21 from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. there will be a tripping visitation to the Swope Park Zoo.

This zoo is one of the first tropical habitat exhibits in the country, and the Ape Houses are only part of the Kansas City Zoo at Swope Park. A mini-railroad system transports visitors throughout the zoo. Swope Park is the second largest municipal park in the U.S. Admission is paid, so the trip is FREE!

Team looks for season success

The 1980 version of the Avila College women's volleyball team will start the season with four returning letterwomen seven freshmen. The returning players from last year's squad are Mary Walter, Sue Comfort, Lisa Werth, and Jan Harrington. The top newcomers will be composed of four players from the Kansas City area and three from the St. Louis area.

"Jamie Jennewein, a 6'1" freshman from Melville High School in St. Louis will be a great asset to the team as our primary striker," commented Pam Sloan, head volleyball coach, who is in her fourth year at Avila. Also, Amy Solo-man, a 5'7" freshman from O'Hara High School in Kansas City, will be one of the top new utility players.

Avila will play a tougher schedule which includes three major tournaments: Evangel tourney on September 19; UMKC tournament on September 27; and the Missouri Western tourney on October 31. Also, the year will feature traditional rival, Rockhurst College.

With the help of assistant coaches Janet Welterman and Dan Hagen plus the efforts of the four returning letterwomen, the Avila volleyball team is looking forward to a successful season.

Sports minded? try intramurals

By Mary Clark

Intramurals is a recreation program for people not involved in intercollegiate sport activities. It is run by the Intramural Activities Council, which is responsible for the programming of activities and the review of tournaments.

Some of the activities planned for this semester, are a tennis tournament on September 27, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. A ping-pong tournament, starting October 7, to November 5, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, in the Snack Bar from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

There will also be a volleyball tournament October 9, to November 13, on Mondays and Thursdays from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. Finally, something everyone enjoys, the second Games Festival, on Oct. 21, from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. in the Snack Bar.

Membership to all of these activities and programs are open to everyone. Intramurals is sponsored through the Office of Student Life. For all those interested, it is through intramurals that students may check out equipment, such as softball, volleyball equipment, cards, games and other such equipment.

Registration for activities and the signing-out of equipment, is through the Office of Student Life. This year, there are more opportunities and reasons to get involved, so sign up today, and have fun!

Royal circus Oct. 6 fast moving entertainment

The ROYAL LICHTENSTEIN QUARTER-RING SIDEWALK CIRCUS is a fast-moving potpourri of narrated-mime fairytales, magic, circus skills, comedy and a mini-menagerie to provide entertainment for all members of the family.

Thus, the mime fables are chosen and invented for the values they espouse; juggling is accompanied by uplifting poetic recitative; a magician's patter may very well be tangent to some topical issue. But everything is presented in one-fourth of a circus ring by clowns whose first consideration is a light-hearted invitation to play.

SUB Social Committee is sponsoring this unique event Monday, October 6 at 12:30 in the Quad. All students, faculty, staff, administration and their families are welcome to attend. This event is funded by the Student Activity Fee.
